

Ermelindo Schultz is finishing his master thesis at the Department of Informatics, Federal University of Paraná (UFPR). He work with Interaction Design, Participatory Design, Critical Education for Creativity and Computing Education.

Laura Sanchez Garcia is Full Professor at the Department of Informatics, Federal University of Paraná (UFPR). PhD in Computer Science at the Pontifical Catholic University of Rio de Janeiro (PUC-Rio), Laura was a Visiting Professor at 3 national universities and also acted as a consultant at “National Research Net”, “Universal Network Language” and “Information Society” programs of the Brazilian Science and Technology Ministry. She is currently a Senior researcher at Department of Informatics, UFPR.

Laís Affornali Fernandes is artist and theatre student at Pontifícia Universidade Católica do Paraná (PUC-PR). She works with theatre of the oppressed and theatre-education.

Mateus Ribamar Paixão is undergraduate computer science student at Federal University of Paraná and front-end developer at C3SL (Centro de Computação científica e software livre). He is currently working in C3SL’s Portal MEC project.

Fernanda Kawasaki is a computer science undergraduate student at UFPR since 2018. In the second half of 2019, Fernanda worked in the LabCRAS project with a scholarship. It was a truly enriching experience. Currently, Fernanda is volunteer at PET Computação, where she also create projects to help other students and community.

Roberto Pereira is Adjunct Professor at the Department of Informatics, Federal University of Paraná (UFPR). PhD in Computer Science at the State University of Campinas (UNICAMP), Roberto was a Visiting Researcher at the Informatics Research Center at the University of Reading (UK), and a post-doc researcher at the Institute of Computing / UNICAMP. He is currently Editor-in-chief of the Journal on Interactive Systems and Horizontes Magazine both from the Brazilian Computing Society.